Aries

Aries

This image is a black and white line drawing of a circular zodiac mandala for Aries. The design features a central circle containing a stylized ram's head with curved horns. This is surrounded by a ring of decorative scrollwork and floral motifs, including lotus petals and leaves. The outermost ring is adorned with small circles and flower-like shapes. The word "ARIES" is written in a bold, sans-serif font along the top inner edge of the middle ring.

Cardinal Sign!

The zodiac signs are grouped into three “qualities” or “triplicities”: cardinal, mutable and fixed signs. Aries is one of the four cardinal signs. These signs start every season—Aries kicks off spring, Cancer starts summer, Libra begins fall and Capricorn is the first winter sign. Thus, they are the leaders and “idea people” of the zodiac.

So let the sun shine! As the sign that begins the spring season, Aries is a Cardinal sign that forges the way. Because your sign is the first of the whole zodiac, the Sun's move into Aries fires up a new astrological year and ushers in the Spring Equinox. Cardinal signs are initiators and value new projects, ideas, and endeavors. This fresh burst of life and energy mirror Aries' liveliness and love of adventure.

Of all the animals, you are most like a Ram

Rams like to leap into the air, crashing heads and knocking horns. Have you ever heard of a "battering ram"? They were used to knock down enemy gates and doors. Aries associates with the Ram, and its glyph represents the face and horns. The Ram is an animal that is known to charge forward with confidence, creating a path through a terrain that many don't dare to venture. The Ram represents courage, action, initiative, and authority which are the backbone of Aries' characteristics, and help Aries take every part of life head-on.

Who was your Aries ram?

You've probably heard of Jason and the Golden Fleece. The Golden Fleece came from the Aries ram. This golden ram was magical and famous in ancient Greece. He was brave and rescued a young prince who was in danger. The gods rewarded him with a constellation in the Sky Star Walk of Fame. You can see it in the night sky, reminding us how brave you are and how you protect your loved ones.

ARIES IN THE NIGHT SKY

Ruling Planet: Macho Mars

Mars is the star of power, adrenaline, and drive. It is the planet of movers and shakers. And man, does Mars rule! It has the largest volcano in the solar system (Olympus Mons), a mountain the size of North America (Tharsis), and a canyon over two thousand miles long. Mars glows bright red in our sky and gives us its power from millions of miles away! Its energy gives all of us Earth dwellers guts and determination, but since Mars is your special planet, you get an extra surge. The greatest playwright of all time, William Shakespeare, even wrote about your star in his famous comedy All's Well That Ends Well.

Helena: Monsieur Paralles, you were born under a charitable star.

Paralles: Under Mars, I.

Helena: I especially think, under Mars.

Charitable means kind. Shakespeare was saying that your star is kind to you and gives you killer luck! Like the Aries magician Harry Houdini, the famous daredevil whose tricks included being tied up underwater. He escaped every time!

Who was your Mars?

Mars was the Roman god of war. The Greeks called him Ares, which is how we got the name Aries. Ares means "bright and burning one." Ares was the hero of every battle. Even on TV, the heroines in battle are played by Aries! Can you guess who? Hermione Granger (played by Aries Emma Watson) and Rapunzel (played by Aries Mandy Moore).

The part of your body that Aries rules: Your head

Aries bump their heads and get more migraines than any other sign. It's lucky they have hard heads, because curious Aries goes ahead and plunges in head first. You're hard headed and headstrong. You like to be at the head of a race, and head of your class. Sometimes you even get a big head. Well, who wouldn't if they could do what you can?

In your element: Fire

Aries is a fire sign. You have fiery opinions and heated arguments about what you believe. So watch your combustible temper! The element of Fire fuels Aries' courageous demeanor and desire for life. Fire is a self-motivated and high-spirited force that yearns to freely express itself and cannot be contained. Like a volcano, without warning, Aries is prone to bursts of enthusiasm or aggression. Aries embodies the Fire element through their identity and ego, acting as a trailblazer and a leader.

Lucky...

Your lucky colors, like the color of your planet Mars, are red and maroon. The color red and the zodiac sign Aries are blushingly compatible. Red is the color of passion, excitement, and Fire, which supports Aries' active energy and eagerness for life. Red is a vibrant color that demands attention — and Aries is a sign that doesn't like to be ignored. It's also no surprise that Aries' ruling planet, Mars, is known as "The Red Planet" — everything is connected! The more red Aries surrounds itself with, the greater their natural powers can be. And talk about fire... did you know that if you wear red or maroon you feel warmer? Try it!

Iron. That's no surprise— the surface of your planet Mars is made up of iron oxide!

Diamond. This is the strongest valuable stone we know.

The luckiest day of the week for Aries is Tuesday. Why? "Tuesday," in French, is mardi, which means "from Mars." So, schedule all the things you want to be lucky on Tuesdays!

In school

Competition and challenge get you going. If there's a test, you'll learn what's important in ten seconds flat, and smile when you beat out your classmates for the top grade. You usually know the answers and aren't shy about talking in class. You're brilliant at sports and athletics, drama, inventing things, making up adventure stories, and leading clubs and discussions.

With your teachers

You get bored easily, so your fave teachers are the imaginative and funny ones who act out their classes and teach the lessons with stories. Unlike a Capricorn or Virgo, you're not interested in learning the rules of math or writing— you prefer to get it on your own. You're independent and don't like to follow orders. So for success, you'll need lots of self-discipline.

On the playground

While you're still a kid, you're like the Aries ram, leaping into the air and butting heads. Competitive sports are a great way for you to let off steam. Even when you're older, you'll still be the one inventing new games for you and your friends to play.

With your friends

Aries have a lot of friends, and usually one or two best friends. You love to explore with your gang. You come up with new ideas for what to do, and you to get outside. What hurts you most is when your friends don't support you.

With your family

It's hard for Aries to sit still or be cooped up inside, so you're lucky if you have a family who mountain climbs (or hikes or does anything physical, as long as it's outside)! Otherwise, you probably argue with your brothers or sisters, even though you love them, and you can be quite a challenge to your parents, too. In spite of this, you're crazy about your family, and you love sharing holidays and birthdays the best.

Making Friends with other signs

The easiest signs for you are the other fire signs. That's Leo, Sagittarius, and Aries (although you lock horns with fellow rams when mad). You talk the same talk. You might have to shout to be heard, but it's fun, isn't it? Capricorn's and Scorpio's constant planning makes you impatient, but you can deal.

The hardest for you are choosy Virgo and sensitive Cancer. Try to remember that they feel as deeply as you do, they just express it in different ways. Virgo worries, and Cancer withdraws.

How to spot an Aries

Look for the person who's taking over the conversation, school play, dance floor, football field, and probably your heart! You say you know an Aries who's shy and quiet? Check them out more. Are they director or head of anything? Do they do their own thing, in their own way? You'll surprise— and please— any Aries by guessing their sign. One of the nicest things in life is getting a ram's full attention.

Hobbies for Aries

Aries individuals are enthusiastic, active, and energetic. They get bored with any stationary activities, and hence, will always look out for some action. Their hobbies usually include sports, outdoor games, adventure sports, video games, listening to vibrant music, motorbike riding, or watching the latest programs (when they are at home).

- ☆ Any kind of competitive sports.
- ☆ Racing of any kind such as cars and motorcycles, and bicycles.
- ☆ Games they can quickly win.
- ☆ Risky activities such as hiking.
- ☆ Walking around interesting places.
- ☆ Fast paced strategy games.

What an Aries needs to look out for...

Aries people tend to have a lot of energy, which they apply to everything in life. This confident sign is known to leap before looking, diving into each new experience with a zest for life that few others can muster. But at times, Aries can be selfish or overly focused on themselves, dismissing passive or shy people. They can be incredibly bossy and demanding, often coming across as abrasive or overly aggressive, which can be a “blind spot” for them, so friends of Aries may need to gently remind them from time to time to tone down or be more sensitive. Aries are also born with an innate sense of entitlement, which helps them reach for the top but it can be off-putting to people in extreme doses. However, Aries will never back down from a challenge and can be heroic champions of anyone in distress.
